☐ the language of publication of the international application (under Rule 48.3(b)).
☐ the language of a translation furnished for the purposes of international preliminary examination (under Rule 55.2 and/or 55.3).

3. With regard to any nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence disclosed in the international application, the international preliminary examination was carried out on the basis of the sequence listing:

- ☐ contained in the international application in written form.
☐ filed together with the international application in computer readable form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in written form.
☐ furnished subsequently to this Authority in computer readable form.
☐ The statement that the subsequently furnished written sequence listing does not go beyond the disclosure in the international application as filed has been furnished.
☐ The statement that the information recorded in computer readable form is identical to the written sequence listing has been furnished.

6. Additional observations, if necessary:

III. Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

1. The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non-obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:

☐ the entire international application,

☒ claims Nos. 15-29

because:

☐ the said international application, or the said claims Nos. relate to the following subject matter which does not require an international preliminary examination (specify):

☐ the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):

☐ the claims, or said claims Nos. are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed.

☒ no international search report has been established for the said claims Nos. 15-29

2. A meaningful international preliminary examination cannot be carried out due to the failure of the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing to comply with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions:

☐ the written form has not been furnished or does not comply with the Standard.

☐ the computer readable form has not been furnished or does not comply with the Standard.

Re Item V

Reasoned statement under Rule 66.2(a)(ii) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

Examination: Claims 1-14:

Claim 1:

Nearest prior art: D1:US-A-4 784 261

D1 describes a heat seal transparent plastic packing material folded about an orderly group of packets of cigarettes to form a tubular wrapping. Graphics (a tax stamp) may be placed on the exterior of the tubular wrapping on the top side of the package.

Problem:

The problem solved by these claims is to provide a seal for sealing the flaps that does not interfere with the graphics.

Solution:

The flaps are sealed by melting the sheet of packing material to define at least one bead seal outwards of said graphics. D1 does not give any indication about how the tax stamp is placed on the tubular wrapping. Thus, the available prior art does not give any indication nor hint which could lead to the solution proposed in claim 1. Therefore, the subject-matter of claim 1 is new in the sense of Article 33(2) and involves an inventive step in the sense of Article 33(3) PCT.

Claims 2-14:

As these claims are dependent on claim 1, the subject-matter of each of these claims is new in the sense of Article 33(2) and involves an inventive step in the sense of Article 33(3) PCT.
